

Inhabiting such endurance... heat and cold and were
resistant to diseases
such as Texas fever.

making the breed well

meared to range... and a large outside to die to and... and...

Driving cattle. Cattle need fresh water.

500 to 700,000 longhorns arrived in the cow town. At the end of the drive, most ranchers sold the animals for good prices and paid the cowboys in cash. Weary cowboys spent their hard-earned money on hot baths, clean clothes, and good food. The

strict law
but you'd Chisholm Trail as
son needed ded territory.

enforcement. "You can wear your tin snappers and you better leave them at the first place you stop."

Farms and towns eventually sprang up along the Chisholm Trail. Texas Indians were pushed farther west. Texas ranchers found a new trail across the mountains to the west of

